The Story of Alexander Harkin and the Village of West Newton

by Bob Sandeen

Visitors to the Harkin Store, located on Nicollet County highway 21 between New Ulm and Fort Ridgely, encounter a scene that is very different from what was present in the 1800s. The Harkin Store was constructed about 1870, and still contains original inventory that was left in place when the store was closed in 1901. However, what visitors may not realize is that the store and the Harkin home next to it are the only buildings left of the community of West Newton.

The Harkin story begins in the 1850s, when Barney Harkin encouraged his brother, Alexander, to join him in Minnesota. Barney emigrated from Scotland in 1848 and had eventually made his way to Fort Ridgely, where he served as the commissary sergeant. Alexander, who had arrived in the United States in 1850, received a letter from Barney that was sent in September of 1855. It mentioned the preparations that he had made for the farm that the two brothers would operate when Alexander reached Minnesota. On April 27th, 1856, Alexander Harkin married Janet Crawford in North Andover, Massachusetts. Shortly afterward, the couple set out to join Barney.

Alexander probably did not expect that he would ever have as many job titles as he listed in an 1858 letter from Minnesota to Janet’s sister, Margaret, in Scotland. He wrote that he was a farmer, a justice of the peace, an overseer of the poor, a coroner, an executor of two estates, and a guardian of two minors. Alexander’s many duties often meant long

Dear members,

We are truly living in extraordinary times. History has taught us to be wary of barriers we erect out of fear. These days we must all use an abundance of caution in our choices, including those of us at the Nicollet County Historical Society. That is why for the safety of our staff, volunteers, and visitors the Treaty Site History Center is closed March 17, 2020, through at least April 4, 2020. All public events in April are canceled. The Board of Directors and I did not make this decision lightly. In the end, closing was the socially responsible choice.

You should also know the Minnesota Historical Society made the decision to close their sites through March 31, 2020 though right now this does not affect Fort Ridgely or Harkin Store because they are still closed for the season. The Traverse des Sioux historic site trail is still open to the public. Even though it’s outdoors visitors should remember to practice social distancing, no large groups, cover your coughs and sneezes, and please stay home if you’re sick.

While we’re temporarily closed and monitoring the situation, for the time being, staff will still be working (unless they’re sick or quarantining) so we’ll be checking e-mails and phone messages regularly. The business of history continues and for as long as we’re able, staff will be on-site ensuring the protection and preservation of our objects, photographs, documents, and working to make our history accessible online. There’s a lot of history happening on our Facebook pages so be sure to like and follow us there.

Ruth will be answering requests via e-mail and phone. You can reach her Tuesday–Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at 507-934-2160 or research@nchsmn.org. Our website has a list of common research resources. We ask that you check there for answers first.

While history is fun and important, it is available from sources other than our museum. By closing to the public, we hope to do our part to slow the spread of the disease. We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause, but we want everyone to stay healthy. Thank you for your continued support. I promise we’ll keep you updated with any changes to our current plan.

Please stay safe and well.

absences from home. He frequently traveled to Fort Ridgely, the Upper and Lower Sioux Indian Agencies, and the communities of Traverse des Sioux and St. Peter. He and his family got along well with the Indians, who were frequently seen in the area.

Alexander and Janet experienced many difficulties as pioneers, including the destruction of their crops by locusts in 1857, losing their wheat and potatoes in 1858, and the loss of the corn crop to frost in 1859. Harkin successfully raised sheep and cattle in the 1860s. The Harkins survived the Dakota War in 1862 by fleeing to Shakopee after receiving a warning that settlers were being killed nearby. By 1867, and possibly earlier, Alexander was operating a general store. It is known that an early version of the store was in one room of a log cabin that he built for his family that year.

The community of West Newton was growing as well. A February 1871 New Ulm newspaper article stated West Newton contained a sawmill, a large grain warehouse, a brewery, two grist mills under construction, a school, a blacksmith shop, two hotels, and numerous houses, in addition to Alexander Harkin’s store. Steamboats could reach West Newton, Fort Ridgely, and other sites beyond. They were often seen until the arrival of the railroad through Nicollet County in 1871. Unfortunately, the population of West Newton began to decline after the steamboats stopped coming until only the Harkin store remained in business. And as time passed, it was easier to reach communities such as New Ulm to do their shopping. When Rural Free Delivery started in the area, it was no longer necessary for people to stop at the Harkin store to pick up their mail. This caused a considerable decline in business, and the store closed in 1901.

Two daughters were born to Alexander and Janet Harkin: Catherine in 1857 and Elizabeth in 1859. Sadly, Janet died of consumption in 1874. Janet’s sister, Margaret, came from Scotland in 1876 to help Alexander care for the two girls. She married Alexander two years later. The marriage was a happy one that lasted until Margaret’s death in 1892, five years after she suffered a severe stroke.

Alexander returned to Scotland early in 1893, possibly intending to stay there permanently. Harkin was very unhappy back in the old country. He allegedly sent a telegram with the single word “Come” to the widow of his close friend and business partner, A. J. Lamberton of St. Peter. Helen Lamberton arrived in Scotland in June. She and Alexander were married before the end of the summer.

The couple returned to the United States, where they settled in St. Peter. Alexander had business interests to manage and was encouraged to run for mayor. He appreciated the honor but declined to run. Alexander died in St. Peter on September 16th, 1907. He was a man of great integrity and was highly respected by those who knew him. He was buried in New Ulm City Cemetery.

On July 1, 1999, the Minnesota Historical Society placed the Harkin Store site under the management of the Nicollet County Historical Society.

President’s Report

Kate Martens, President, NCHS Board of Directors

If you are like me, history is more than a subject in school (which, unbelievably, some kids seemed not to like!), it’s a view of the past with a challenge to connect what went before to what is happening today, shaping our future. That is why you have chosen to be members of the Nicollet County Historical Society. This passion was on our minds as we made the decision to do our part in protecting against Covid-19 by closing the Treaty Site History Center. But fear not, there is plenty of history to explore!

As we have time to be socially responsible and shelter in, we also have time to do more than clean out closets. That same media access which has been blamed for spreading panic can be used in a positive way. You can become a researcher on your own. Internet searches can pique your interest in Nicollet County history and beyond. The Traverse des Sioux treaty is available online, as well as rich related information. Learn about the townships surrounding us as well as the people after whom our streets and towns are named. Don’t be afraid of Wikipedia, the blue links on pages can lead you on a merry adventure into more discovery!

Again, if you are like me, you have a stack of books waiting to be read. Mine right now have to do with the 100-year anniversary of Women’s Suffrage as well as the tribes who were here before and what we should know about them today. The next few weeks beckon with the possibility of uninterrupted reading time.

When we reopen, you will find our current exhibits interesting in new ways and you may even have ideas for future exhibits at the History Center (please share those!). As members, we contribute not only to presenting these exhibits and programs, we support ongoing research and archiving of objects donated by people around the area. Who knows, you may find artifacts of your own when you are cleaning out those closets!

Be safe, be well, and read—we’ll see you when we reopen.

Educational Excellence

This exhibit, featuring the Saint Peter School District 508, will be ready and waiting for your visit when the Treaty Site History Center re-opens its doors after the present health crisis. We invite present-day students to see their school’s history and SPHS alumni to re-visit their lives as students in the Saint Peter school system.

Educational Excellence: Saint Peter School District 508

Put on your saddle shoes and lace up your hightops to take this stroll down memory lane. We’re going back to school and the subject is the history of Saint Peter Schools. Reminisce about your teachers, hot lunches in the cafeteria, FFA, pep fests, cheering on the home team, and much more.

Now Open thru Sept. 5, 2020

Recent Donations

The NCHS Archives has recently received two exceptional collections of documents, photographs, and artifacts relating to two participants of the Civil War, George Anderson and Andrew A. Lind.

Steve Anderson, great-grandson of George Anderson, donated materials that reflect the breadth of George's experience in this country, from a diary describing his immigration from Sweden to Minnesota, to a receipt from the First Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Church of St. Peter (now First Lutheran) for his burial plot.

Notably, the collection includes a diary in Swedish and English kept by Anderson during his service in Company E, Second Minnesota Veteran Volunteer Infantry, August 1864–June 1865. Anderson's descriptions and anecdotes provide accounts of the regiment's participation in the Atlanta Campaign, the burning of Atlanta, the March to the Sea, the Goldsboro Campaign, and the Grand Review. The collection includes the Springfield rifle carried by Anderson during his service.

The Andrew August Lind Collection, donated by Lind’s great-grandson, Rick Wright, also includes a Springfield, complete with bayonet, ramrod, and wooden barrel plug, and carries the story forward with materials reflecting Lind's participation in the Asgrim K. Skaro Post No. 37 of the Grand Army of the Republic in St. Peter. In addition to Lind's discharge and military pension certificates, the collection includes a photograph of Lind among veterans at a G.A.R. reunion posing in front of Rinkel Groceries on Minnesota Avenue.

Another photograph of Lind shows him wearing his G.A.R. uniform jacket with brass buttons engraved with our state motto, “L’Etoile du Nord – Minnesota” and adorned with his Third Minnesota, Company B Volunteer Infantry, 1861–1865 badge. A uniform button and the badge are included in this remarkable collection.

We are grateful to have been entrusted with materials that help tell the story of local Civil War soldiers and something of their lives when they returned to the community.
Welcome aboard!

The Society gained five new board members after the January Annual Meeting. We are lucky and honored Marie, Ray, Donna, Bob, and Tami join us!

Marie Dranttel, St. Peter
I’m a lifelong resident of Traverse Township—my family has farmed just north and west of the Treaty Center and the “park” for four generations. I was a member of the NCHS board when the TSHC was in its infancy during the years of the Traverse des Sioux Encampment—it has been wonderful to see the Society grow, educate and entertain. Currently, I attempt to simultaneously balance two vastly different occupations—Certified Public Accountant and County Commissioner.

Ray Jacobson, St. Peter
Ray grew up on a family farm in Oshawa Township. The first three years of school were at Dist. 27 one-room School. After consolidation, St. Peter was the place to be. Ray Graduated from St. Peter High School and Mankato State College with a B.S. in Education. Taught for 14 years then returned to Mankato State University and earned a degree in Information Technology. Ray took a position with NationWide Ins. in Wisconsin and return home after 25 years. Preserving history has been important, whether it is family or community. Understanding where you come from helps you find your way forward. I believe that all history is important and needs to be preserved and presented to the community as often as possible and in many different ways.

Donna Nelson, St. Peter
Donna was born and raised in Eagan Minnesota. It was a Township from 1860-1972, became a Village in 1972 and a City in 1974. It was not the big city like it is now. It was still fields, woods and full of wildlife and history. Growing up she was fascinated with the history of Eagan as well as all of Dakota County Minnesota.
Donna then relocated to St. Peter in 1991. It’s her forever home. She is interested in the preservation and rich history of Nicollet County. Donna works for Good Samaritan Society Home Care as their Community Liaison, Chamber Diplomat and a Board Member of the St. Peter Lions. She is passionate about the preservation of Nicollet County so generations to come will continue to learn its rich history. Bob and Donna have three boys and three grandchildren. They also have three horses and a Bernese Mountain Dog.

Bob Sandeen, St. Peter
I am Bob Sandeen, a St. Peter native who lived here until I finished college at Mankato State in 1970. With a B.S. degree in chemistry, I worked for 30 years as a laboratory technician at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester. In August of 2000, I returned to the family home in St. Peter. In June of 2001, I began working in the archives of the Historical Society. I have had a strong interest in history since grade school. My huge library clearly demonstrates that. I am part of the St. Peter Tourism Bureau, the St. Peter Lions Club Board of Directors, and the St. Peter All-School Reunion Committee. I was a member of the St. Peter Area Veterans Memorial Committee as well.

Tami Skinner, St. Peter
Tami Skinner grew up in St. Peter and serves as the Community & Family Education Director for the Saint Peter Public School District. At an early age, she became interested in history, and some of her favorite childhood vacations included visits to historical museums and sites. Tami and her husband, Jeff, have strived to provide similar experiences in their children’s lives. She believes that preserving and finding meaningful ways to share history is vital to the community. She has worked with Nicollet County Historical Society for many years to co-host the monthly documentary film series and has previously served on the board. NCHS is a huge asset to the county, and she is excited to be a part of the important work of the society.
After a long, cold winter, the E. St. Julien Cox House committee is “thinking spring” and is making plans (remotely for right now) for the rest of the year. This year the house celebrates 50 years on the National Register of Historic Places, so our focus for the year is preservation.

NCHS is partnering with Rethos: Places Reimagined to offer a series of monthly preservation-focused workshops at the Cox House this summer. Barring any community health concerns, the first class will be on May 30 focused on wood rot. Using the Cox House as our “lab” for the day, instructor Laura Leppink will show how to assess, repair, and prevent rot. You’ll learn to understand buildings as systems and consider why rot happens. You’ll leave with a list of necessary tools and materials for repairing or replacing rotted wood in your home. This workshop is designed for anyone who lives in or cares for an older home or building. No experience necessary—come with questions!

Our work continues to implement the new site interpretation. Visitors will have a new way to experience the house with a self-guided tour. To engage more and different audiences, we’re shifting away from the traditional tour model. Once we get through the planning stages, visitors should expect to experience more vibrant programming and displays about Victorian life and times.

Exterior maintenance projects are slowing moving ahead as well. The garden fence needs to be replaced, and the house and carriage house needs a coat of paint. Once those projects are complete, we’ll be restoring the gardens to the 1890s look more sympathetic to the house’s history. If anyone is interested in helping with any of these projects, please let us know. Many hands make light work!

We are sad to report this year’s Annual Heritage Plant Sale fundraiser is canceled due to community health concerns.

Cox House Corner…

The Board at the Nicollet County Historical Society wishes to extend heartfelt thanks to Larry and Judy Biederman for their recent generous support of the Cox House. The Biedermans are longtime members of NCHS and have regularly supported philanthropic causes in the area. Upon hearing of the specific needs at the Cox House site, including painting, foundation and window work, fence and tree removal, they made a substantial donation specifically for the care of the site. Especially in this difficult time, when our sites are closed to facilitate public safety, this type of contribution is invaluable. For the immediate future, visitors are restricted, therefore admissions will temporarily disappear. Thanks to the Biederman’s gift—when the Cox House re-opens—the experience will be even more impressive. Members and donors like the Biedermans provide the ongoing quality, historical support on which NCHS depends.

The 2020 season at the Fort is shaping up to be a good one. Time on the prairie with all its sunshine, grasses, and flowers is always a welcome time. There are many programs scheduled for the season and we are looking forward to meeting new people and seeing old friends.

We are looking for fun, pleasant, smart, hard-working individuals that love history and people to work at the Fort for the season. We are open Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday 12 p.m. to 4 p.m. Our staff is fun and easy going and would love to add some great people to our group. The season opens Saturday, May 23, 2020, and goes through Sunday, September 6th.

Fort Ridgeley Events

Programs are included with site admission of $6 adults, $5 seniors and college students, $4 ages 5–17, free age 4 and under and MNHS members. Minnesota Historical Society and Nicollet County Historical Society members are admitted for free, memberships are available for purchase. State Park vehicle permit required. All events are subject to public health recommendations.

May 23: Opening Day! We invite you to come to experience our exhibits in the museum. Refreshments will be provided for all visitors or you are welcome to pack a picnic to enjoy on the parade grounds. Fort Ridgeley Historic Site will be hosting a Children’s Day from 12–4 p.m. We will have baseball on the parade grounds, graces, as well as other great outdoor games. There will also be crafts in the Commissary building

May 30: Come on out to the Fort and learn about the mighty Minnesota River from area naturalist Scott Kudelka. Flowing across the southern part of the state, the Minnesota River has its own unique story beginning with the last glacial event some 10,000 years ago and continuing to the present day. The Dakota called it Mnisota or clear blue water or clouded blue water. This program will look at both the natural and historical significance including the role of geology, rich culture and how the valley has seen a dramatic change since Euro-Americans.

June 6: Fort Ridgeley welcomes area naturalist Scott Kudelka. Kudelka will be talking about Bison! As the largest mammal on the Great Plains, millions of bison once roamed all over North America and played an integral role in the livelihood of many American Indian Tribes. The American bison is an animal built to live in harsh conditions and it will be shown through an activity called “Build a Bison.” Kudelka will also talk about the distribution of bison prior to the arrival of Europeans, the difference between bison and buffalo, and how they are doing at Minneopa State Park. This program is wonderful for all ages and it will take place at the Commissary building at 2 p.m.

June 20: Happy Father’s Day! In honor of fathers, we will be hosting The New Ulm Battery. The Battery will be educating visitors about black powder as well as firing off a few rounds that day. They will be with us from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Bring family and friends along with a picnic so you can spend the afternoon.

July 4: Happy Fourth of July! Fort Ridgeley will be hosting a Cemetery Tour for a tour of the historic side of the Fort Ridgeley National Cemetery. Many important players in our history are buried here in this cemetery, Joseph LaFramboise, area fur trader and Captain Marsh and the men that died at Redwood Ferry, to name a few. Join us at 2 p.m. for this informative tour. Meet at the amphitheater if you are interested in this program.
Harkin Happenings…

by Ruth Grewe
Site Manager Harkin Store Site

The Harkin Store is getting ready for an exciting year. The 1870s general store is 150 years old this year! We’re planning on doing some extra celebrating by hosting extended programs for all to enjoy this year. Opening day is scheduled for Alexander’s 192nd birthday. We are also including a program we haven’t had for a while, gardening. We are also doing more activities and games for children. Check the listing on the web and newspapers for what is coming up throughout the year. Call the store during open hours for more information. We’ll see you for our exciting year!

During the NCHS Covid-19 Closure

Here are some ways you can support NCHS while our doors are closed:

• If you’re ordering from Amazon instead of venturing out to the big box store, consider doing so through AmazonSmile and make the Nicollet County Historical Society your charity. AmazonSmile is a website operated by Amazon with the same products, prices, and shopping features as Amazon.com. The difference is that when you shop on AmazonSmile, the AmazonSmile Foundation will donate 0.5% of the purchase price of eligible products to the charitable organization of your choice.

• Direct your Thrivent Choice Dollars to the Nicollet County Historical Society. The program gives eligible Thrivent members an opportunity to recommend where Thrivent distributes some of its charitable outreach funds each year. To direct Choice Dollars, go to Thrivent.com/thriventchoice or call 800-847-4836 and say “Thrivent Choice” after the prompt. Deadline is March 31, 2020.

• Eligible IRA owners could consider making a Qualified Charitable Distribution. A qualified charitable distribution (QCD) is a distribution of funds from certain IRAs directly to a qualified charitable organization, such as the Nicollet County Historical Society. Your tax advisor can provide additional information on your particular situation.

• Consider renewing your NCHS membership at a higher level if your budget allows. You can still mail in your renewal payments or you can pay online. Visit nchsmn.org/membership.
